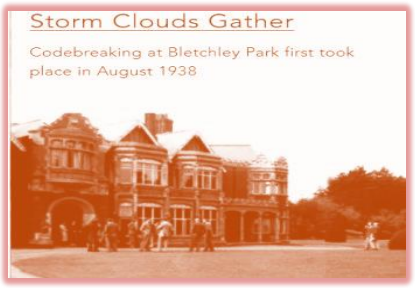
MONDAY, APRIL 13th, 2026. OUTING TO BLETCHLEY PARK.



Home of the Enigma Code, Bletchley Park is an English country house and estate, near Milton Keynes, which became the principal centre of Allied code-breaking during the Second World War. The first operational break into Enigma came around the 23rd January, 1940, when a team of mathematicians consisting of John Jeffreys, Peter Twinn and Alan Turing unraveled the German Army administrative key, thus saving thousands of lives

The cost, including return coach, is £43.00

Bookings, by email only, will be logged in order of receipt and successful applicants will be contacted with details of how to make their payment by BACS or cheque. All unsuccessful emails are acknowledged the same day and members will be informed that they have been placed on the waiting list.
